Please make sure you read our Terms and Conditions before registering for the Tour.

We would like you to have the time of your life in Paris. Before booking your trip with us, please be sure that you enjoy the company of a group, as our tours are usually comprised of up to 12 participants. We also want to highlight the fact that we will be walking about 6 to 8 hours every day, i.e., about 5 miles. We'll also use public transportation such as the métro, which has many flights of stairs. Therefore, this tour is best suited for people who have no problems walking.

Cancellations and Refunds

Cancellations are possible until six weeks prior beginning of the tour (i.e. March 26th, 2009). Individuals cancelling their participation on or prior to this date will receive a full refund of all amounts paid.

Cancellations made between six weeks and one month prior to beginning of the tour will receive a refund of 50% of the price of the tour. After one month prior to beginning of the tour, there will be no refunds. Once the tour has started, visits, admissions and events included in the program will not be refunded, should a guest decide not to attend or should he be unable to attend, regardless of the cause.

Responsibility & Limits of Liability

Péché Mignon reserves the right to change the accommodations chosen for the tour presented on the promotion documents for the trip and on Péché Mignon's website. In that occurrence, Péché Mignon will choose accommodations of generally equal or greater standards. Péché Mignon cannot be held responsible for a change in the order of the program or any activity mentioned in the program that had to be cancelled.

Péché Mignon will not be responsible for any damages, accident, injury or theft that may occur to the customer or his property during the tour, transfers or during the flights to and from France. Péché Mignon is not responsible for costs incurred by the tour participant due to travel delays, flight cancellation, strikes, labor stoppages, weather, business interruptions, missed connections or illness either in the United States or in France.

Péché Mignon may be required to cancel the tour if, in the sole opinion of Péché Mignon, there are too few participants. In this case, Péché Mignon will not be responsible for any of the tour participant's expenses incurred for the trip, such as airline tickets. We strongly recommend that tour participants purchase their airfare with cancellation insurance. In case of a cancellation of the tour, Péché Mignon will refund all deposits and fees paid to Péché Mignon no later than one week from the date of cancellation.

Insurance

Péché Mignon strongly recommends that each tour participant obtains travel insurance prior to departure to cover potential cancellation, illness, loss or damages to personal property and health issues that may arise during the trip. As a tour participant, you understand and agree that the travel insurance will be the sole resource for you, the tour participant, to recover for any and all losses sustained by you with regard to the trip, including but not limited to trip cancellation, flight and transportation delays and cancellations, injury or illness, labor stoppages or slowdowns, strikes.

I agree with all the Terms and Conditions of the tour.
